The season is about giving, and the members of the Enfield Police Department have been happy to communicate the same.

For the last several days members of the Enfield Police Department have been handing out 100 dollar bills instead of tickets.

The Chief was approached by an anonymous business person in town who provided the proceeds of this endeavor through the message of giving during the holiday season. The individual provided $5000 in one hundred dollar bills to be given out to our community, after seeing something similar in another State.

So, if you are passing through Enfield --- you may be greeted by an Officer spreading the cheer. Have a happy holiday and please drive safely.
